THE LEGACY

Shri Pawan Jain founded Purna Industries in 1971 - a name that has now become synonymous with trust, quality and excellence in the automobile sector.

Built on strong values and visionary leadership, his journey reflects not only business success but also an extraordinary commitment to community development. With a deep belief that education is the greatest form of service, he turned his focus toward educating the nation. Thus began a remarkable chapter in 1998, when he established Purna School (formerly known as DPS Aligarh) - a revolutionary step that brought world-class education to Aligarh. This marked the beginning of a powerful legacy in school education.

His vision continued to grow:

- 2006 - Mangalayatan University was established as a higher-education institution to shape future professionals and create global opportunities for students.
- 2007 - DPS Civil Lines, Aligarh extended quality education to an even wider academic community.
- 2014 - Purna School (formerly known as DPS Hathras) carried the mission of excellence to a neighbouring district.
- 2022 - Purna International School, based on the Cambridge Curriculum, brought international-standard learning to Aligarh.

Today, under the inspiration of Shree Pawan Jain, Purna Group stands tall with 27 years of an extraordinary legacy in education - touching thousands of lives, empowering students with modern learning, and building responsible global citizens.

LOGO CONCEPT

SCHOOL

THE FOUR LEAVES

The four dynamic leaves represent the four pillars of education proposed by UNESCO:

1. Learning to Know - Cultivating curiosity and intellectual growth
2. Learning to Do - Developing practical skills and application
3. Learning to Live Together - Fostering empathy, collaboration, and respect
4. Learning to Be - shaping individuality and self-awareness

MONTESSORI

The central space these children gather around is equally important. It symbolises the guide or teacher, not as a traditional authority figure, but as a calm anchor who facilitates learning, observes growth and supports independence. This aligns with Montessori pedagogy, where the educator steps back, allowing the child to step forward with confidence.

OVERVIEW

At the heart of Pavana School's logo lies the belief that education is holistic, continuous, and ever-evolving. The mark embodies the school's commitment to nurturing every dimension of a child intellectual, practical, social, and personal in harmony with their environment.
